I am so happy to be back in Scotland after five months of raising funds. Thank you to all who opened their churches, hearts, and finances to me – you make this possible.

Just a few days after I arrived, we left for UPCGB&I General Conference held in Llandudno, Wales. The theme was Apostolic Impact, and that was just what happened. Not only were we changed by the presence and Word of God, but the surrounding community was, as well. I rejoice with Charlotte and the many others who were baptized or filled with the Holy Ghost as a result of the outdoor service on the promenade and invitations handed out.

The highlight of this week for me was the experience at McDonald's. Like a scene straight out of the book of Acts, the young people of Great Britain and Ireland sang and danced in the restaurant, drawing attention from both the workers and those outside the restaurant. As they joined us, we worshipped, preached, and prayed. We had 12 people representing Church of Hope at Conference. Our young people came back on fire, and began speaking to their friends. As a result of that, we have begun teaching a Bible Study to a young girl, age 16.

Time of worship and prayer in Edinburgh city center.

Other than that, I remain busy teaching Sunday School, working with the youth, teaching at and learning how to run the part-time Bible School, teaching, playing piano and preaching at Church of Hope, and doing prayer walks in city center. Pray for me this month as I start working to start a preaching point in the town of Dunfermline.
