

GREETINGS FROM GUATEMALA

March 6, 2018

Hi all!

I have officially been in Guatemala for a month! My time here has been busy and fulfilling. I am doing incredibly well and really getting situated into how things work around here. As soon as I arrived I got to experience the busy life at HOME International. I got here in the midst of all 10 kids being sick—you can imagine the hectic atmosphere that brought along with it! Thankfully all of the kids are doing much better and everyone is healthy again.

We have 8 school-aged children here at HOME. You can find me driving the kids to school every other day and picking them up whenever needed. On days when we have meetings on campus I spend the time with the two youngest so all the staff can attend.

There's always something happening around here— even on the weekends! So far I have been a part of hosting a monthly Family Visiting Day, and a day at the park. I've also gotten to explore a bit in the beautiful city of Antigua.

Knowing some of the things these kids have been through and seeing how they can still be children really opens my eyes to the resiliency of the human spirit. Please join with me in prayer for each of the children here at HOME and for the staff and caretakers.

I look forward to what the next two months brings along!

God Bless!
