

Month 2 in Cyprus has been just as incredible and full as the first! Here are some of the things that are new this month...

- We have a family that has started coming to church this month with small children. I've been honored to teach their 7 year old and two 3 year olds Sunday School, alongside Lauren. It's so exciting to see little ones in the church and to be able to pour into them! I hope to help establish a solid Sunday School routine for them before I leave!
- I'm continuing to help out at church with music, testimonies, etc. A few ladies in the church take turns opening service, leading testimony service, and teaching the lessons. Bro. Summers has added me to the rotation occasionally, and I'm so happy to be used wherever I can be in the church!
- Over the past few weeks, we've spent a lot of time in fellowship with some local contacts that the Summers have made over the years. I've had the opportunity to really get to know Cypriots, as well as people of different backgrounds.
- This month I've had a chance to visit the pillar where Paul was whipped in the city of Pathos, the place where Barnabas is buried, and the ancient city of Famagusta. Seeing historical sites like these has been one of my favorite experiences here, especially the Biblical ones.
