July 2018: Andrew Mollett

Week One: We started the month with a service with the RKR students while they were visiting Ventspils. Throughout the rest of the week, we continued evangelism throughout the city. We walked through many shops and parks, meeting new people and working towards building relationships with them and eventually starting Bible studies with them. On the fourth of July, we all met at Abigail's house to celebrate and spend time together as a team.

Week Two:

We continued evangelism this week and continued to meet new people and spend time with the people we had already met. We invited eight of the people we'd met over to Abigail's apartment for a game night and got to connect more with many of them. At the end of the week, Tyler Flemon arrived from the Ukraine and ministered to us during our team service that Sunday.

Week Three: We started this week with personal meetings with Mark Shutes, talking about what our next step was and what our plans were when we went home. We then spent the rest of the week evangelizing and spending time with the contacts we had made in the past few weeks.

Week Four:

This week started with a celebration service in Riga. Once we got back to Ventspils, we continued evangelizing, meeting new people and spending time with contacts. We also had another game night at Abigail's apartment this week with one of the contacts we made.
