TALLINN

In September God has opened doors for me to connect with international students—from Japan, Korea, China, Pakistan, India, and South Africa.

English Conversation Hour

A diverse group of people have come together for English conversation. Thalia, for example, is from South Africa and attends Tallinn University, studying adult education. We met at a school cafeteria. She has come to help us. Jesus knows how to connect people. I am also thankful for Bro. and Sis. Moses for giving of their time and finance and also for Bro. and Sis. Turner for their financial support. We have been meeting every Monday at 6:30p.m. at Maiasmokk which is the oldest coffee shop in Tallinn. We have mostly students, but also a working mother. Please pray that God would give us wisdom and boldness to share the gospel. Last week I had a chance to witness to Emily and Grete; they work there at the coffee shop. Grete was open to hearing the Word; her parents are Jehovah's witnesses but she decided not to follow this path (isn't this interesting?). Please keep them in your prayers.

Baptisms

Karina got baptized on September 16. Astrid and Lois got baptized on September 23. Please pray that God fills Astrid with the Holy Ghost.

Street Evangelism

Sunandan and Novi have helped tremendously with doing outreach and ministering to the people in the streets. We have met a diverse group of people—elderly, children, homeless, Russian speakers, etc. God has opened doors for us to share the Word and pray with people. The gospel is for everyone, and I am thankful that salvation doesn't cost anything.

Tallinn University

Last week Sunandan invited his classmate from Pakistan, Farhan, and the four of us had Bible study together at Tallinn University cafeteria. Please pray for Farhan that he gets baptized, and God fills him with the Holy Ghost.

Tallinn Technical University

God opened a door to start having Bible studies with two Korean women (who teach Korean language at Tallinn Technical University) on Fridays. We are studying the book of John. Please pray for Youngju and Jungim!

Home Visits

I have been visiting an Estonian family of three on Tuesdays for Bible study. Please pray that God fills them with the Holy Ghost and that they also get baptized. Kalju, Elle, Valentina are their names.

Language Studies

I am currently enrolled in an Estonian class three times a week at Tallinn University. The purpose is to be able to communicate with and minister to the Estonian people.
