

Okinawa Japan

The Month of October: Jared Sprous

A Place to Grow and a Place to Work

Okinawa, Japan is ripe for harvest, but the laborers are few.

The Island of Okinawa is to serve as a launch point to reach the rest of Japan and all of Asia. The team is focused on growing, while at the same time being used and led of God to reach out to others. Since being here there have been of healings, deliverance, and a few baptisms in other works on the island. Without the work and effort, there is no harvest in Japan.

Tomo-Group

Tomodachi means friend. Friend home bible study/church. Above is me preparing to teach the word to those who have gathered into our meeting apartment.

Japanese Streets

The streets of Japan are far different back home. No shortage of people around that need saved and need to hear the gospel of our Lord Jesus

Growth and Learning

It can be truly said that while I am here, I am being used, worked, grown, and taught.

It is in all honesty ridiculous how much I have grown being here in just one month. I have so much knowledge on things I did not have knowledge of or ever thought of doing just a month or even a week before I came here.

I know God truly brought me here to grow me, teach me, use me, and develop me. Not to mention show me his will for my life and give me further direction regarding my calling. It can be good to be forced into situations you have never done or dealt with before. If it makes you uncomfortable that is probably good because that is how you grow. It is almost impossible to grow while being comfortable.

I am excited for what God has for me. Anxious sometimes. I often find myself thinking about all different possibilities in life, where God might take me, how he will use me in the harvest, and what he has in store for me.

Meet the Team!

Here we are at a fall festival here in Japan! The place was packed with people. It is honestly so unbelievable and hard to comprehend just how many people were around. The food was absolutely delicious as well, and the fireworks amazing. I can truly say the Japanese know how to grill well.

At the same time, above is me, Melissa (far left), Ai and Veronica in the middle, Joe and Corey in the back, and Erica who ended up not being in most of the picture. Poor Erica. This is the young people crew! Learning, growing, and being used for God's kingdom.

GLOBAL IMPACT CENTER:

Here on the right is me preaching my first Sunday morning message to the Global Impact Center congregation at the beginning of November! The Lord moved and his presence was powerful and overwhelming that morning.
