

Tere(Hello)! God is so Good!

This month concludes my 6 month AIM appointment to Estonia. While I am happy to go home I am also very sad to leave. I have been blessed to meet so many precious people and am grieved to leave them. I pray that God would continue to work in their lives and for Him to send more labors to this field.

Thank You!

This all has been made possible by your prayers, encouragement, and giving! It means so much to me to know that there are friends and family who are covering me with their prayers and support! I pray that God Blesses you and yours!

Church

1 Corinthians 3:7

"So then neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth; but God that giveth the increase."

Is it even a missions trip without painting a church ;) Alyssa and I worked alongside several others to help renovate the sanctuary. The Lord has been blessing the church and it refreshing to see the growth of people and the building.

We have had several special services this last month. On our International Sunday a girl from our conversation class came, and brought 5 friends with her.

On Easter Sunday we had 20 guests (9 first time, 11 returning). Most importantly God was there, changing hearts and moving in life's of people.

Kristina, an Estonian friend from our conversation class, came to a regular church service for her first time.

We went to the bogs together with some church friends from Tallinn and Tartu. She said she had never hung out with a group of friends before and that it was amazing. I am very sad to leave her.

Teaching

Saying goodbye to friends from English conversation class was very sad.

Thankfully we were able to connect some English students to our friends from Friday Bible study group.

We had a great time at our picnic. Two of these girls have grown up as muslims in Turkey. Both have expressed that they don't believe in Islam anymore and are were curious about Christianity. We were able to talk about Jesus and they were very open and receptive. I pray that God continues to draw them to him.

Goodbyes

I have made so many great friends and memories. It is sad to leave but I have had a great experience and feel extremely blessed and full.

Thank You for your support and prayers! May God bless you and yours!
